SUMMARY

Improving the VIII E Students' Achievement in Writing a Recount Text by Using Dictogloss Technique at SMP Negeri 3 Kencong Jember; Heny Prastiwi, 060210401107; 2012: 63 pages; English Education Program, Language and Arts Education Department, the Faculty of Teacher Training and Education, Jember University.

Based on the preliminary study and observation that was done on July 23rd 2011, most of the eighth year students of SMP Negeri 3 Kencong Jember, especially class VIII E faced some difficulties in writing a text in terms of finding the ideas to write, choosing appropriate words, and writing by using appropriate tenses. This was proven by their writing scores which showed that only 52.77% of the students got ≥ 70 . Besides, the students' participation in the teaching learning process of writing was still low. It means that they still passive in the classroom.

The classroom action research by using Dictogloss technique was implemented in this research because this research was intended to improve the VIII E students' writing achievement and to improve their active participation in the teaching learning process of writing. The research was done collaboratively with the English teacher of SMP Negeri 3 Kencong Jember. It was conducted in class VIII E of SMPN 3 Kencong Jember consisting of 36 students. The observation and the writing test were the methods that were used to collect the data. The data were analyzed quantitatively.

The action was implemented in two cycles in order to achieve the objectives of this classroom action research. The first cycle was done in two meetings and followed by a test. The results of the classroom observation showed that 64.71% in meeting 1 and 69.44% in meeting 2 of the students were active during the teaching learning process. It showed that there was improvement of the students' active
