discuss about the play called Othello and a novel entitled The Zahir. There are interesting plots in the play and the novel which depict it interesting plots in the play and the novel which depict the woman, in particular as a wife (especially). Othello describes a more of the second seco with the Turk. He has a good wife who gives him support and advice, or becomes a _{.p:||library.unej.ac.id} good friend to share opinion with her husband. The play is very popular until now because the moral value still exists in real life. Esther is faithful. She is loyal. On the other hand, The Zahir has an interesting plot that it portrays a new thing. It conveys a husband who works as a writer at home and his wife is a war journalist who works in woman as a wife who leaves her house to do her job as a war journalist. Jorge is a dangerous places. The plot in the Zahir is simple but the story is interesting to discuss.

p:||library.unej.ac.idl the plots of the two stories. Studying the plot means to give more attention or concern with the main sequence of court with the main sequence of events in the play Othello and in the novel The Zahir. Therefore, structural approach is used to focus only on the intrinsic aspects, It means that the analysis starts from the specific concept moving to general conclusion. The data collection is used in this the printed materials, such as, dictionaries, books, articles and cybernetic sites.

The results of the research show that there are similarities and differences of the plots shown in both the play and the novel. Othello serves a complex plot in dramatic plot and The Zahir offers a simple plot that involves flashback plot.
