Curriculum and teaching and learning process have an important role in education. Curriculum is a set of designs and rules concerning objectives, contents, instructional materials, and ways used as guideline in doing learning activities to achieve certain educational system. On the other hand, the teacher who is doing the curriculum in the classroom for teaching and learning process should be able to do learning activities based on the curriculum. Based on School Based Curriculum, learning materials deal with the teaching materials that are given by the teacher covered four language skills and three language components. The English teacher can take the materials from the textbooks, internet, brochures, newspapers, advertisements and many others that are written in English. The materials which are taken from the English textbooks should be selected whether their materials are relevant to the curriculum or not. Therefore the English textbooks have to be analyzed comprehensively before the teacher selects and uses them in teaching and learning process in the school.
