SUMMARY

Improving the Eleventh Grade Students' Reading Comprehension Achievement through Jigsaw IV Technique at MAN 2 Jember; Alfi fatimatus Safitri; 140210401013; English Language Study Program, Language and Arts Education Department, The Faculty of Teacher Training and Education, University of Jember.

This classroom action research was intended to improve the eleventh IPS 3 grade students' reading comprehension achievement by using jigsaw IV technique at MAN 2 Jember. Based on the preliminary study in the form of interview with the English teacher of MAN 2 Jember, it was found that the eleventh IPS 3 grade students had problem in reading comprehension. It happened because during the teaching reading activity the teacher only asks the students to read the text aloud and do the exercises by themselves. However, this technique did not seem to be effective to be implemented. It made the students not enthusiasm in reading activity. In addition, students face some difficulties in understanding a text such as the unfamiliar vocabularies and the minimum background knowledge about the topic. It was proved by looking at their percentage reading score 6,45% which was the lowest among the other eleventh grade classes. The researcher and the English teacher tried to overcome the problem by using Jigsaw technique as the teaching technique in teaching reading.

The data collection methods used reading comprehension test and the observation in the form of checklist to get the primary data which were analysed statistically, while the result of observation counted using percentage and interpret it based on observation indicators. The action was implemented in two cycles in order to achieve the criteria of success of this classroom action research and to check the consistency of the research result. Each cycle covered two meetings of the action implementation and one meeting for administering the test. The observation results in Cycle 1 showed that there were 83.82% students were actively involved during the teaching and learning process. Besides, the percentage of the students who achieved the minimum of standard score significantly increased into to 77,4%. In other words, Cycle 1 fulfilled the criteria of success. It says so because there were 77,4% students got reading score 75 or higher. Then, the action was still continued to Cycle 2 to check the consistency of the students' reading comprehension achievement and their active participation.

The observation results of Cycle 2 showed much better result. It was reported that 89,95% of the students participated actively during the learning process. It means that there was 6,15% improvement from Cycle 1 which was 83,82%. The result of the reading achievement test above stated that the mean score of the test was 80,5. In addition, there were 25 students (83,3%) of 30 students could achieve the standard minimum score, it was ≥ 75 . Based on the result above, it can be concluded that the use of Jigsaw IV technique could improve the eleventh IPS 3 grade students' reading comprehension achievement and their active participation.

CHAPTER I. INTRODUCTION

This chapter explains some aspects dealing with the topic of the research. The aspects are the research background, the research problem, the research objective and the research contribution.

1.1 Research Background

Reading is a skill that must be mastered by students from an early age. Reading has a special place among the four language skills. It is a basic tool for learning and one of the most important skills in everyday life (Fry, 1997). In learning a foreign language, reading skill is needed for students to understand a language, especially English. Kaddoumi (1995) considers that reading knowledge of a foreign language is often important to academic studies, professional success and personal development. Grellet (1996) also indicates that reading is an active skill since it requires readers to guess, predict, check, and ask information from the passages. It is also called as a constant process of guessing.

Based on the researcher observation, the use of an appropriate teaching technique became an important support for students' effort in getting information from the text they read. In reading activity students faced some difficulties in understanding a text such as the unfamiliar vocabularies and the minimum background knowledge about the topic. Osborne (in Sam and Rajan, 2013), sees students' major problem in reading is to comprehend a passage and find the main idea. Moreover, during the teaching reading activity the teacher only asked the students to read the text aloud and do the exercises by themselves. That technique seems to become the main reason why the students found difficulty in getting the information from the text.

To solve the problem, the researcher needed to think about a teaching technique that could be implemented during reading activity to improve the students' reading comprehension achievement and their active participation. Jigsaw activity is a cooperative learning technique where students work in groups to teach each other about something. Jigsaw can be applied flexibly in different context of classrooms (Yen Hai, 2012). It means that Jigsaw IV Technique is one of reading strategies to improve students' reading comprehension achievement by giving the students an overall assignment.

In the last 10 years, the Implementation of Jigsaw IV Technique in teaching reading appears to be an important issue that is often discussed by many researchers (Al-Zu'bi, 2008; Maden, 2010; Khoshsima, Sayare & Saed, 2011; Mengduo & Xiaoling, 2010; Campino & Morales, 2012; Kazemi Mahnaz, 2012; Keshta, 2016; Salman, 2016; Yen Hai, 2017). Those research studies were conducted in Asia (Turkey, Saudi Arabia, China, Iran, and Palestine), & Colombia, to investigate a significant effect of using Jigsaw IV Technique in students' reading comprehension achievement. It has been the focus of discussion due to some affective problems faced by the students in reading process in those countries such as boredom and unmotivated. According to Millis & Cottell (1998), cited in Salman (2016), Jigsaw reinforces important cooperative learning elements, such as positive interdependence and individual accountability. This is because in Jigsaw learners must teach one another to get the information and must learn all the information, not just their own portion, since they are tested individually.

Most of the previous studies applied experimental research designs. However, study of the implementation of Jigsaw IV Technique by applying action research design has been underexplored. Therefore, a study of the implementation of Jigsaw IV Technique in action research design is an attempt to fill the gap. Besides, based on the interview with the English teacher at the school, there has been no study about the use of jigsaw IV to improve students' reading comprehension achievement which was conducted at the school.

To fill the gaps in methodology and practically, In the present study the researcher is interested in conducting a research entitled: Improving the Eleventh Grade Students' Reading Comprehension Achievement through Jigsaw IV Technique.

1.2 Research Problems

The research problems of the present study are formulated as follows:

1. Can the use of Jigsaw IV improve the eleventh-grade students' participation in the teaching and learning process of reading at MAN 2 Jember?
2. Can the use of Jigsaw IV improve the eleventh-grade students' reading comprehension achievement at MAN 2 Jember?
3. How do the activities in Jigsaw IV Technique help students understand a reading text?

1.3 Research Objectives

Based on the research problems above, the objectives of the research are formulated as follows:

1. To improve the eleventh-grade students' participation in the teaching and learning process of reading at MAN 2 Jember using Jigsaw IV.
2. To improve the eleventh-grade students' reading comprehension achievement at MAN 2 Jember using Jigsaw IV.
3. To know how the activities in Jigsaw IV Technique (discussing in expert group and home group) help students understand a reading text?

1.4 Research Contribution

1.3.1. Theoretical Contribution

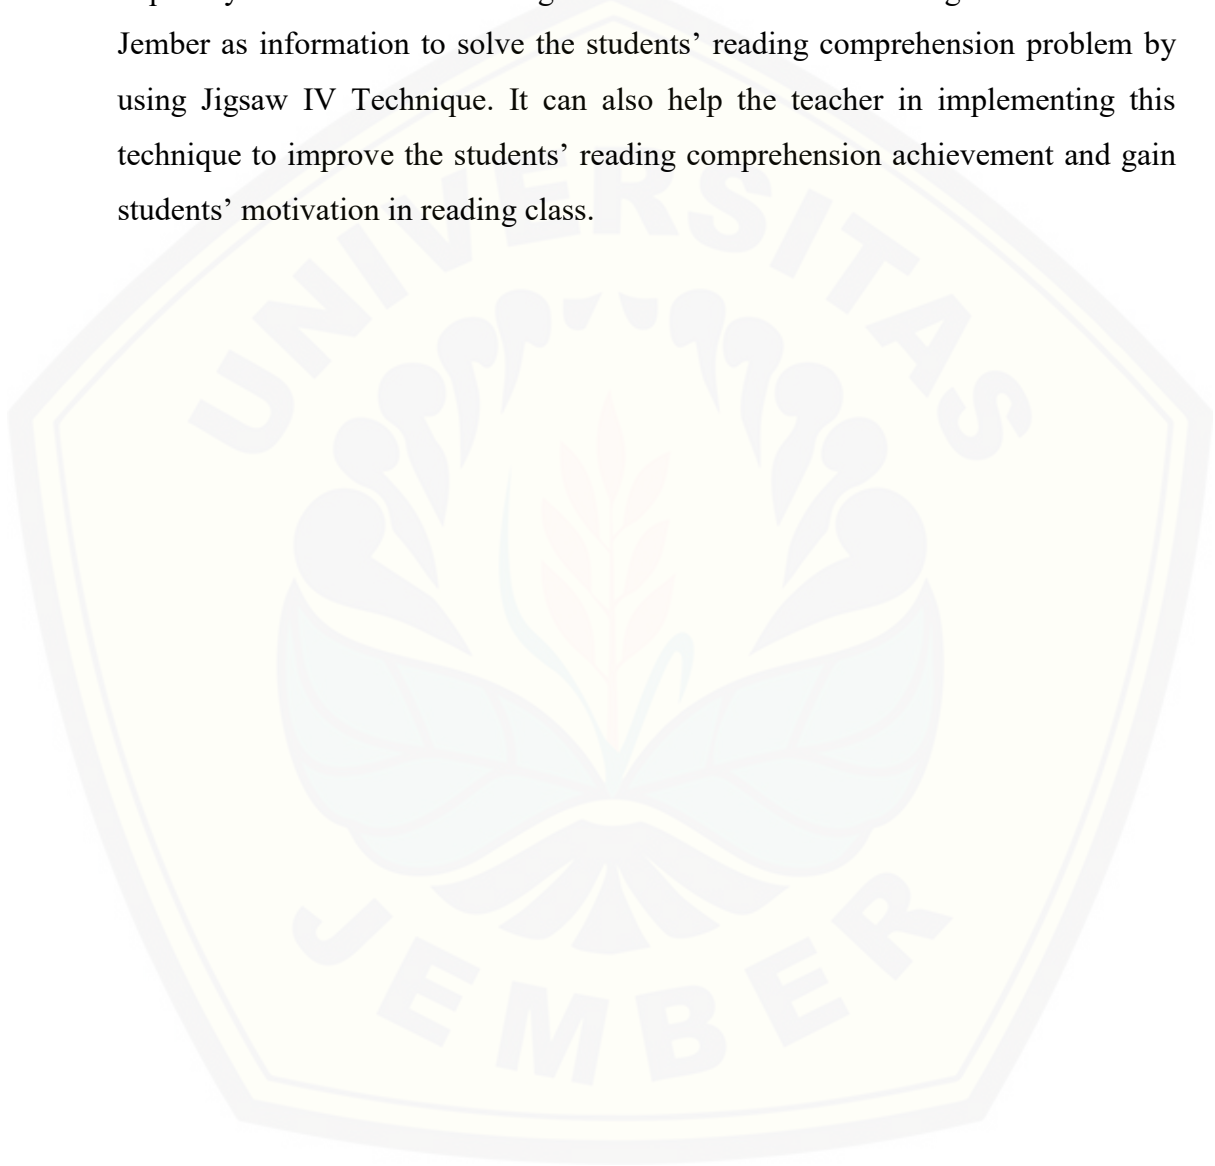

The present study results are expected to give clear information about the theory underlying this study, whether the present study results confirm or disconfirm the theoretical basis of the study.

1.3.2. Empirical Contribution

The results of this research are expected to be useful in providing information and empirical record for future researchers who have the same interest in dealing with the implementation of Jigsaw IV Technique to improve the students' reading comprehension achievement as the reference whether they have the same research design. The result of this research might be the same or different with the previous researches.

1.3.3. Practical Contribution

The research results are expected to be useful to improve students' reading comprehension achievement and their participation during reading activity. Hopefully, the students will have new experiences dealing with Jigsaw IV Technique in comprehending the text. Besides, the results of this research can hopefully be useful for the English teacher of the eleventh grade at MAN 2 Jember as information to solve the students' reading comprehension problem by using Jigsaw IV Technique. It can also help the teacher in implementing this technique to improve the students' reading comprehension achievement and gain students' motivation in reading class.

CHAPTER II. LITERATURE REVIEW

This chapter presents the review of literature related to the topic of the research including theoretical framework, conceptual review, and previous research studies.

2.1. Theoretical Framework

Sociocultural learning theories take a learner-centered approach. Rather than viewing individuals, sociocultural theories take much greater account of the important roles that social relations, community and culture play in cognition and learning (Rogoff, 1990). According to Vygotsky (1978) Every function in the child's cultural development appears twice. first, on the social level, and later, on the individual level; first, between people (interpsychological) and then inside the child (intrapsychological).

Zone of Proximal Development (ZPD) is one of the important notions of sociocultural theory. The main concept of the ZPD is all learners are potentially better learners and to treat all learners as able to offer new and valuable insights with respect to the issues being discussed in the classroom. Lantolf (2000) claimed that ZPD is more appropriately conceived as the collaborative constructions of opportunities for individuals to develop their abilities.

Based on the theory of sociocultural theories, learning happens through social interaction and is situated in specific cultural environments. Collaboration plays a key role in thinking and learning. Collaborative learning provides learners with the opportunity to interact with others and engage in solving problems or completing tasks, to think and talk about their thinking and explore the answer to the problems or tasks.

Initially introduced by Aronson et al. (1978), Jigsaw model is a collaborative group learning model used in the classroom in which students are provide the chance to learn a material from their peers. A material is divided into sections and each student have responsibility to one section. The students who are responsible for the same section form a new group to master and to enable them to teach the section of the material to the other members in their original learning group later.

2.2. Conceptual Review

2.2.1. Jigsaw IV Technique

Jigsaw is kind of cooperative learning task that requires learners to communicate with other information (Kazemi, 2012). Crandall (in Arnorld, 1999:230) states that Jigsaw can be used to divide the task for reading or listening to a text among members of a group. In addition, Longman Dictionary of Language Teaching and Applied Linguistics (in Mengduo and Xiaoling, 2010) says that Jigsaw is a cooperative effort to produce the final product. Here, each material of each student is essential to assign and to complete the final assessment. Thus, Jigsaw Technique is designed for cooperative learning in small groups in order to help the students improve their ability in comprehending the text.

Jigsaw IV is one of the series of Jigsaw. It is created to improve the previous jigsaw III. Jigsaw IV is the most complete and appropriate version of Jigsaw series to be applied for students. Holliday (2002) notes that development of Jigsaw IV is based on students or teacher concerns. There are some difference activities between Jigsaw IV and the other jigsaw series. The clearer description as follows:

1. Introduction is stated in Jigsaw IV. This can be accomplished by lecturing to a whole group, literature, posing a question or problem, showing a film or film clip, and any other number of methodologies used to introduce a lesson (Holliday, 2002).
2. There is an additional quiz in part four and six. According to Holliday (2002), the purpose of these tasks is to check for accuracy and understanding.
3. In the last part of Jigsaw IV there is an extra activity which cannot be found in other Jigsaw series. This is needed only if the majority of students missed a specific item of information on the assessment and it appears that re-teaching the concept is needed (Holliday,2002)

2.2.2. The Advantages and Disadvantages of Jigsaw IV Technique

According to Maden (2010), there are several advantages of using Jigsaw, such as follows:

1. Jigsaw enhances students' self-confidence since every student takes the same responsibility during teaching and learning activity.
2. Cooperation and interaction between students became more enjoyable.

In addition, according to Morales & Campino (2012), the advantages of jigsaw are:

1. Each person in the group has responsibility; shyer and weaker students have as much responsibility as stronger students the nobody gets excluded.
2. The larger text can be down into more easily manageable chunks.

Other experts, Mengduo and Xioling (2010) have noted the advantages of jigsaw technique are:

1. Jigsaw can increase students' learning since it is less threatening for many students.
2. It increases the amount of student participation in the classroom.
3. Jigsaw help create an active learned-centered atmosphere since every student should participate actively to finish the task.

Therefore, Jigsaw IV technique brings some benefits by helping the students to comprehend the text in a fun way and facilitate the students to get the meaning of the text through teamwork. Besides bringing the advantages, Jigsaw IV also has disadvantages. Maden (2010) mentions that Jigsaw technique is time consuming because students need to take more times to from two different groups. Besides, students need much time to arrange discussion with two different group. To cope these disadvantages, the teacher must manage the time as effective as possible and decide the appropriate text to be involved during reading activity.

2.2.3. Reading Comprehension Achievement

Reading is considered as an active process where the readers utilize their cognitive and mental capacities to figure out the internal meaning of the text (Kazemi, 2012). Moreover, Grellet (1996:8) adds that reading is an active skill because it involves guessing, predicting, checking and asking oneself question. It can be said that the students have to explore themselves to get the understanding about the text they read.

Reading activity cannot be separated from comprehension skill. According to Klingner (2007), reading comprehension is the process of constructing meaning by coordinating a few complex processes including word reading, word and world knowledge and fluency. It can be said that reading comprehension refers to the ability of constructing meaning to understand the text.

Hughes (2003:13) says that achievement test is a language course test to determine how successful individual student, group of students in achieving objectives. Reading comprehension achievement is students' reading score that they get from reading comprehension test.

McNamara (2007: 465-466) points out three standards of successful readers in constructing the meaning of the texts. They are (a) Comprehension of words, sentences, and components of texts; (b) Using prior knowledge, context, and understanding of language to comprehend and elaborate the meaning of the text; and (c) Author's purpose, audience, and craft. Reading comprehension achievement covers:

1. Word Comprehension

To comprehend a text, it is important for students to know the meaning of the word. Wood (1991:57-58) states that identifying key words before someone read is a part of pre reading process and taking steps to learn them later as someone read the text. Here is the example of word comprehension in a question:

She was beautiful and clever but also pampered and spoiled. (The third sentence of the paragraph). What does the underlined word refer to?

a. The King; (b) Dayang Sumbi; (c) The lady; (d) The Queen; (e) Sangkuriang.

The Answer is (b). The word "she" refers to Dayang sumbi who was beautiful and clever.

2. Sentence Comprehension

Comprehending the sentence is the next step after comprehension the words. By comprehending the sentence means that the students can obtain the idea that stated in the text. It is supported by Wood (1991:151) who says that sentence is a group of word that express a complete thought or idea. McWhorter (1989:99) adds that a sentence has at least one key idea. In short, to comprehend the sentence, it can be done by involving the students' logical thinking in analyzing the sentence. This is the example of sentences comprehension in a text:

“...One day as she was weaving in her pavilion, she became moody and distracted, which caused her to keep dropping her shuttle on the floor...”

1. Why did Dayang Sumbi keep dropping her shuttle on the floor?
 - a. the parents did not spoil her
 - b. she became happy
 - c. it happened because her parents indulged her
 - d. because she was selfish
 - e. she became moody and distracted

Answer: (e) Dayang Sumbi became moody so she keeps dropping her shuttle on the floor.

3. Paragraph Comprehension

Paragraph is a group of sentences that have one main topic. This is in accordance with Wong (2011:75) who defines a paragraph as a combination of sentences that develops one main idea about a specific topic. Furthermore, according to Langan (2004:11) paragraph is a series of sentences about one main idea or point. Thus, the students must be able to comprehend the paragraph to know the main idea of certain topic. Here is the example of the paragraph comprehension in a question:

A long time ago, the ancient land of Sunda was ruled by a king and queen who had a single daughter. Her name was Dayang Sumbi. She was beautiful and clever but also pampered and spoiled. One day as she was weaving in her pavilion, she became moody and distracted, which caused her to keep dropping her shuttle on the floor. Once when it fell she exclaimed she would marry the one who gave it back to her.

1. From the paragraph we know that . . .
 - a. Dayang Sumbi felt angry
 - b. Dayang Sumbi exclaimed she would be the Queen.
 - c. the king left the kingdom
 - d. Dayang Sumbi exclaimed would marry the one who gave her shuttle back to her
 - e. no one gave it back.

Answer: (d) Dayang Sumbi exclaimed that she would marry the one who gave her shuttle back to her.

4. Text Comprehension

After comprehending word, sentence and paragraph, the students are expected to be able to comprehend the text. Text comprehension means that the students understand the words, sentences, paragraph and the information that is delivered through the text they have read. It is in line with Grellet's idea (Grellet, 1996:15) which states that the text is not made up from independent sentences or clauses, but it is built from related ideas to be unity throughout the passage. Thus, the students must be able to comprehend the text to find out information they needed.

Here is the example of the text comprehension in a question:

1. What is the purpose of the text?
 - a. To describe about the writer
 - b. To inform that the visitors is a queen
 - c. To entertain the reader about the story of Sangkuriang
 - d. To describe Sangkuriang
 - e. To retell the story of Dayang Sumbi

The answer is (c) to entertain the reader about the story of Sangkuriang because the text tells the story of Sangkuriang.

2.2.4. The Steps of Teaching Reading by Using Jigsaw IV Technique

According to Holliday (2002), the procedure on the use of Jigsaw IV technique for teaching reading comprehension is as follows:

1. The teacher provides introduction about the material and activities at the beginning of the lesson before asking the students to do the main activities.
2. Students are divided into group called "Home Group"
3. Each student in the home group is given a single paragraph and an expert sheet.
4. The students who get the same paragraph gather in a group called expert group.

5. Each expert group discusses and understand the content of the paragraph they have got. Then, when they understand the content of the paragraph, they answer the question on the expert sheet.
6. The teacher gives quiz to each expert group the check the accuracy.
7. Each student in the expert group returns to their home team to teach and tutor their team mates about the material they are expert in.
8. The teacher gives another quiz to each home group to check for the accuracy.
9. The teacher conducts a review game (team jeopardy or quiz bowl) to review the material.
10. The teacher conducts individual assessment.

In this case, the researcher adopted the steps through the study that was done at MAN 2 Jember.

2.3. Previous Research Review

Around ten years, teaching reading by using Jigsaw IV has got so many attentions from researchers. A study that was done by Al-Zu'bi (2008) was to investigate the impact of Jigsaw strategy on the King Saud University. The participants of the study are 50 male students in Almajma'a college – English department were consisted of two assigned (the experimental group and the control group). ANCOVA (Analysis of Covariance) was used to examine the significance of the treatment dependent variables. The result showed that the achievement of reading comprehension of the students in the experimental group significantly improved.

Another research was conducted by Maden (2010) who tried to compare the effect of Jigsaw IV as well as the conventional teaching on the academic achievement of Turkish pre-service teacher as for the language teaching method and techniques. The participants of this study included 62 undergraduate students from the Department of Turkish language. By using language teaching methods and techniques achievement test (LTMTAT) and analyzing the student opinion form (SOF) for collecting the data, it was concluded that students have positive attitudes towards Jigsaw IV.

Another study, that was done by Mengduo & Xiaoling (2010), aimed to find out whether the Jigsaw technique could be successfully used to fulfill the intended task in the college English class, integrating all four skill in the process. By using questionnaire surveys after the actions, the study showed that implementing Jigsaw technique in the EFL classroom made it possible for the teacher to focus on language learners and in conclusion Jigsaw technique is an effective way to promote student participation and enthusiasm as well as a useful technique for language learners to accomplish learning task in the EFL classroom.

Khoshsima, Sayare & Saed (2011) conducted a study to find out how Jigsaw technique can improve reading comprehension ability of first year students of Chababar Maritiem University (CMU). Two groups (experimental and control group) of 30 students were selected as the subject based on result of the Nelson English Language Proficiency Test (NELPT). A Michigan reading comprehension test as a pretest and posttest was administered to ensure students' reading comprehension ability prior to the study. Finally, the finding indicated that the experimental group has performed significantly different from the control group on the posttest. It can be concluded that Jigsaw can improve students' reading ability.

In 2012, there were two studies about the use of Jigsaw IV technique in teaching reading. First, a study about the effect of Jigsaw on student's reading comprehension skill in a public high school in Pasto was done by Campino & Morales. The participants of the study were the jigsaw group and the non-jigsaw of 11-grade students. In this research "Pre-test/post-test" data was collected through data matrices. The research findings showed that the students of the jigsaw group had positive views on the use of the jigsaw technique. Second, study from Kazemi Mahnaz (2012) attempted to provide a comprehensive examination of the effects off the jigsaw teaching method on the success of Iranian EFL learners in term of their reading comprehension achievement. The present study aimed to compare the effectiveness of using traditional method of instruction and the jigsaw method of teaching as a kind of cooperative teaching. A paired-samples was conducted. The results showed that the students' post-test reading scores improved significantly when compared with their pre-test scores. This could be concluded that the implementation of Jigsaw technique can improve the students' English reading comprehension.

Alaa Basheer Keshta (2016) conducted a study about the impact of jigsaw strategy on improving reading comprehension and communication skill. The subject of the study was 76 EFL female learners studying at Al- Quds secondary school in Rafah. 36 students were an experimental group and the 40 students was a control group. The researcher used a questionnaire, an achievement test and observation card as tools. the findings show that there were significant differences in learning English reading comprehension and communication skills between the experimental group and the control ones.

Sabbah Salman (2016), conducted a study by using a quasi-experimental pre-posttest design to investigate the effect of using jigsaw on ELS students' achievement in reading comprehension. The findings showed that the use of cooperative jigsaw reading strategy correlated positively with students' academic achievement.

Yen Hai (2017) conducted an action study which aimed to identify the implement Jigsaw technique and Kagan structures in teaching reading comprehension and the change is students' motivation and attitude toward reading comprehension task question. Nine students at the elementary level in an English Center in Hanoi were the participants of the study. Finally, the findings indicated that students' reading abilities have improved. Teamwork, skills, motivation of learning reading and responsibility of some students also have enhanced a lot.

Based on the previous studies above, it can be shown that applying Jigsaw in teaching reading comprehension gives positive effect on students' reading achievement. Jigsaw can be said as a technique that is able to be used to enhance students' reading comprehension achievement. The majority of the previous studies applied the same research design which was experimental research design, meanwhile this study applied action research.

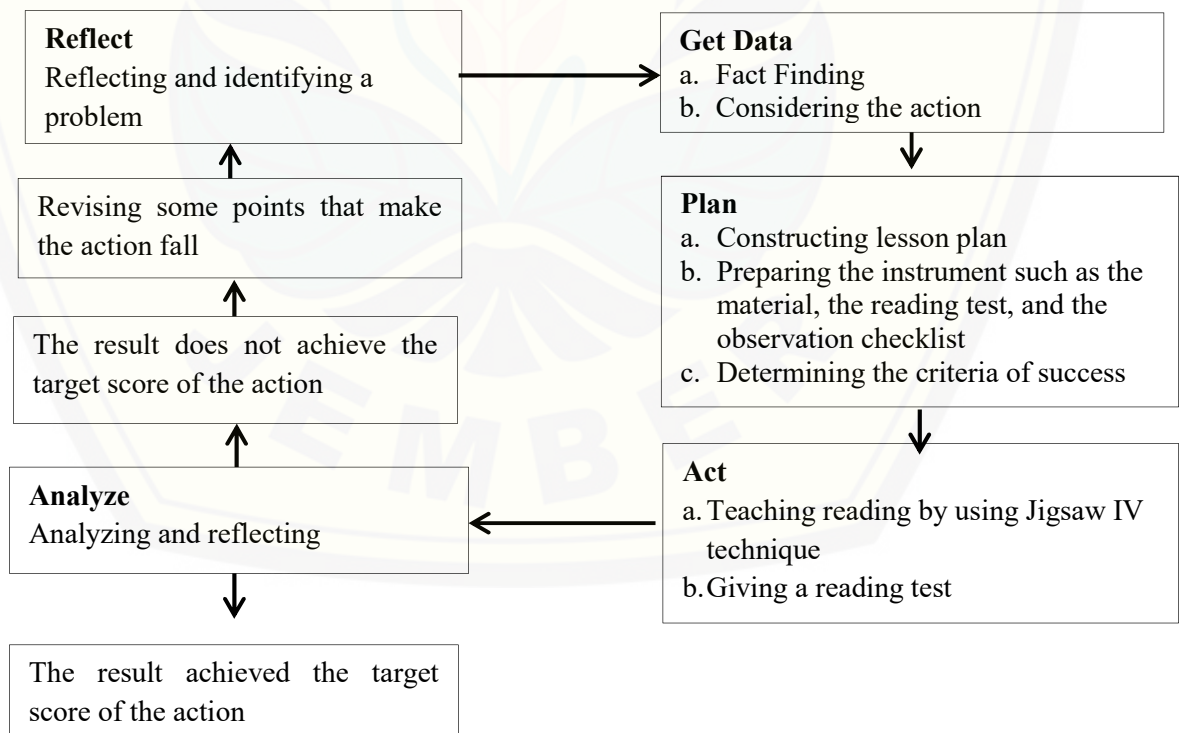

CHAPTER III. METHODOLOGY

This chapter presents the research method applied in this research. It involves research design, research context, research participant, the research procedure, and data analysis.

3.1. Research Design

This chapter presents the method used in this research. This study was classified into action research. The objective of these research is to enhance the eleventh-grade students' reading comprehension achievement by using Jigsaw IV technique at MAN 2 Jember. Classroom action research refers to the solution for the teacher regarding to the students' achievement problem. A classroom action research offers with the cycle model and it consists of planning, acting, and analyzing the result of action (Lodico et al, 2010: 322). The design of the classroom research can be seen in this figure below.

3.1 The Design of Classroom Action Research Model

(Lodico et al, 2010:322)

Based on the design of the research above, the steps of this research that was done are as follows:

1. Interviewing the English teacher of MAN 2 Jember to get the information about the teaching technique and the problem that the students face in reading class. This interview was needed to support the data that was obtained.
2. Getting the supporting data of the research such as the name and the previous score of the research subject.
3. Determining the action. This step was needed to find the way to solve the problem.
4. Planning the action as the preparation before implementing the action.
5. Constructing lesson plans, an observation checklist, teaching materials, reading test and the criteria of success.
6. Implementing the action by using Jigsaw technique in reading class. The researcher was teach reading narrative text by using Jigsaw IV technique to improve their reading comprehension achievement. Cycle 1 was done in three meetings. The first and the second meeting was used to do the action and the third meeting was used for the reading test.
7. Observing the students' activity by applying the observation checklist during the implementation of the action in the class. It was helped by the English teacher.
8. Giving a reading comprehension test.
9. Analyzing the students' score of reading comprehension test. There were two types of evaluation in this step namely process evaluation and product evaluation.
10. Reflecting the result of students' score collaboratively with the English teacher. The criteria to determine the success of the action are:
 - a. The use of Jigsaw IV technique can improve the students' participation if 75% of the students actively participate in teaching learning process.
 - b. The use of Jigsaw IV technique can improve the students' reading Comprehension mean score if the reading comprehension test is at least 75 and it could be reached by at least 75% of the students.

3.2. Research Context

The classroom action research was conducted at MAN 2 Jember. There are some reasons of choosing MAN 2 Jember as the research context:

1. The eleventh IPS 3 grade students had a problem with reading comprehension achievement. It was proved by looking at the mean score of students' reading comprehension score that shows only 56, meanwhile, the minimum standard score for English is 75.
2. The English teacher never used jigsaw IV technique in teaching reading.
3. The Headmaster of MAN 2 Jember gave the permission to the researcher to conduct this research at the school.
4. The researcher had experience to teach at MAN 2 Jember.

3.3. Research Participant

The participant of the research was the eleventh IPS 3 grade students of MAN 2 Jember in the 2017/2018 academic year who had minimum score of reading comprehension that is only 57,2 meanwhile the standard minimum score is 75. It showed that the Eleventh IPS 1 grade students had a problem in reading comprehension achievement.

2.2 Data Collection Method

In this research, the researcher used four kinds of data collection methods, namely reading comprehension test, observation checklist, interview and documentation. The following parts discuss the methods used to collect the data.

3.4.1 Interview

In this research, an interview was conducted with the English teacher to acquire detailed information about the use of English curriculum, the teaching materials, the English books, teaching media and the techniques or strategies.

3.4.2 Reading Comprehension Test

Reading comprehension test was used to collect the data dealing with the students' reading comprehension achievement. Hughes (1989) states that a test refers to any structured attempt in the form of a list of questions and other instruments to measure language ability. Tests also provide meaningful result of groups' or learners' achievement. The reading achievement test was used in this research. The indicators that was measured are the students' word, sentence, paragraph, and text comprehensions. It was also based on the 2013 Curriculum used by the English teacher.

3.4.3 Observation

An observation checklist was used by the researcher to record the students' participation in the reading class by applying Jigsaw IV technique. The observer used the observation checklist to check the students' participation.

Table 3.2 Observation Checklist of the Students' Participation

No.	Name	Indicators					Total	Active	Passive
		1	2	3	4	5

The indicators observed are:

1. The students discuss with their group in answering expert question.
2. The students do quiz 1 on the materials given in expert group.
3. The students share the information they got from expert group to their home group.
4. The students do quiz 2 on the materials given in the home group.
5. The students do the review process.

Note:

Active: When the students at least fulfill 3 indicators.

Passive: When the students fulfill less than 3 indicators.

3.4.4 Documentation

According to Creswell (2012), documentation involves public and private records such as newspaper, personal journal and letters. In this research, documentation was used to get the data about the curriculum at MAN 2 Jember, the syllabus, the previous score in reading comprehension test, the total number and the names of the respondents of the eleventh grade students of MAN 2 Jember in the 2017/2018 academic year.

3.5 Data Analysis

The data was obtained from observation checklist that was analyzed quantitatively based on the data from the percentage of the students' participation during reading class by using this formula:

$$E = \frac{A}{N} \times 100\%$$

Notes:

E = the percentage of the students' who participated actively teaching reading process by using Jigsaw IV technique

A = the number of the students who participated actively

N = the total number of the students (the subject)

(Cohen et al, 2000:326)

The result of the students' reading achievement test was analyzed by using the following formula:

$$M = \frac{\sum x}{N}$$

Notes:

M = The students' mean score

$\sum x$ = The total score of the students' reading test

N = The total number of the students doing the test

$$E = \frac{A}{N} \times 100\%$$

Notes:

E = the percentage of the students' who got ≥ 74

A = the number of the students who got score ≥ 74

N = the total number of the students (the subject)

(Cohen et al, 2000:326)

CHAPTER V. CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter presents the research conclusion and suggestions. The conclusions are gained from the result of the research. The suggestions are proposed to the English teacher, the students and the future researcher.

5.1 Conclusion

Based on the result of the data analysis and discussion, it could be concluded as follows.

1. The use of Jigsaw IV Technique could improve the participation of XI IPS 3 students during teaching and learning process of reading narrative text at MAN 2 Jember. The result of the observation showed that the students' participation by using Jigsaw IV Technique improved 6,15%. The average result of Cycle 1 showed 82.83% while Cycle 2 reached 89.95%.
2. The use of Jigsaw IV Technique could improve the eleventh IPS 3 students' reading achievement on narrative text at MAN 2 Jember. The result of the students' reading comprehension achievement showed that the percentage of the students who got the minimum standard score (≥ 75) improved 5,9%. It can be seen by looking at the average of the result in Cycle 1 was 77,4% and Cycle 2 was 83.3%.

5.2 Suggestions

In relation to the research outcomes that the use of jigsaw IV Technique could improve the students' participation and their reading achievement on narrative text, some suggestions are proposed to the English teacher, the students, and other researcher.

A. The English Teacher

The English teacher was suggested to use Jigsaw IV Technique as an alternative teaching for reading for reading to improve the students' participation and their reading comprehension achievement. Since it could help the students work together in small group to learn English reading skill, it is suggested to download the instruction of jigsaw technique freely from www.jigsaw.org.

B. The Students

The students were suggested to be actively involved during teaching learning process of reading by using Jigsaw IV Technique. This technique helps the students to create an active learned-centered atmosphere since every student should participate actively to finish the task. As a result, it could improve their active participation as well as their reading comprehension achievement.

C. Future Researcher

The result of this research could used as a reference to conduct further research by using Jigsaw IV Technique on students reading comprehension participation and achievement using different school, or different level of students, or other kind of narrative text such as fairytales, fable, and myth.

The Legend of Banyu Wangi

Orientation

Once upon a time, in eastern part of Java Island, there was a kingdom ruled by a king. The king's name was Prabu Menak Prakoso. One day, Prabu Menak and his soldiers invaded the kingdom of Klungkung in Bali. The king of Klungkung was killed, yet his daughter, Made Surati, and his son, Agung Bagus Mantra, were able to escape and hide in the jungle.

Complication

Prabu Menak Prakoso had a son named Raden Banterang. He was such a handsome young man. One day, Raden Banterang went to the jungle for hunting. It was in the jungle that Raden Banterang met Made Surati. She was then taken to Blambangan to be his wife. Raden Banterang and Made Surati enjoyed a happy life in the Palace.

When Raden Banterang was hunting one day, Made Surati was surprised by the arrival of a dirty beggar asking for her pity. The princess was surprised to find that the beggar was her older brother, Agung Bagus Mantra. She promptly squatted and embraced her brother's legs. However, her great respect of her brother was not well accepted. Instead, Agung Bagus Mantra asked his sister to kill Raden Banterang. But such a request was rejected. He was very angry with her and came up with a sly idea to slander her.

Slowly but surely, Agung succeeded in convincing Raden Banterang that his wife had been involved in a scandal with another man. Asking for compassion, Made Surati tried to tell the truth and denied her husband's accusation. Hearing his wife explanation, the king became angrier and angrier. As a proof of her sacred love, she asked her husband to kill her. As her last request, she asked her husband to throw her dead body into the river. She said that if the water in the river smelled terrible, it meant that she had ever been sinful. But if it smelled fragrant, it meant that she was innocent.

Resolution

Raden Banterang who was unable to control his emotions soon stabbed his keris (dagger) into his wife's chest. She died instantly. The dead body of Made Surati was quickly thrown into the dirty river. Raden Banterang was shocked to see the river suddenly become clean and as clear as glass with a fragrant smell. Raden Banterang screamed crazily and regretted what he did. He walked unsteadily and fell into the river screaming, “Banyu... Wangi... Banyuwangi!” This means “fragrant water”.

APPENDIX B Students' Worksheet

Please read this text below very carefully.

SANGKURIANG

A long time ago, the ancient land of Sunda was ruled by a king and queen who had a single daughter. Her name was Dayang Sumbi. She was beautiful and clever but also pampered and spoiled. One day as she was weaving in her pavilion, she became moody and distracted, which caused her to keep dropping her shuttle on the floor. Once when it fell she exclaimed she would marry the one who gave it back to her.

At that very moment her dog Tumang, a demigod possessing magic powers, came up to her with the shuttle in his mouth. Dayang Sumbi had to marry him. They lived happily together, and Dayang Sumbi gave birth to a baby boy, human in appearance but endowed with his father's magic powers. She named him Sangkuriang. As the boy grew up, he was always guarded by the faithful dog Tumang, whom he knew only as a companion and not as his father, Sangkuriang became handsome and brave.

One day his mother asked him to go hunting with the dog and bring her venison for a feast. After hunting all day without success, Sangkuriang worried about facing his mother empty-handed. Desperate, he took an arrow and shot the dog. He returned home and handed over the meat to his pleased mother. Soon after the feast, however, Dayang Sumbi questioned her son about the absence of Tumang. At first, he evaded her queries but finally told her what had happened. She was horrified and struck her son so hard on the temple that he collapsed. For that, the old king banished his daughter from the court and she was made to roam around the kingdom. Sangkuriang recovered with a large scar on his temple, and he left the court to wander around the world.

Years later, Sangkuriang met a beautiful woman and instantly fell in love with her. It was his own mother—they did not recognize each other. He proposed to her and she agreed to marry him. On the day before the wedding, as she was caressing her fiancée's hair, Dayang Sumbi detected the scar on the temple. Horror struck her, for she was about to marry her own son, Sangkuriang. Without revealing the whole truth to him, she tried unsuccessfully to dissuade him. Desperate to avoid the marriage, she set conditions she thought impossible to meet. Sangkuriang had to make a lake that filled the whole valley and build a boat for the couple to sail in, all before dawn.

Sangkuriang started to work. His love gave him extraordinary strength, and he used his magic powers to summon the spirits to help him. With boulders and mud, they dammed the river in the valley and the water rose and began to form a lake. In the early morning hours, he chopped down a huge tree in the forest and began hollowing it out to make a boat. When Dayang Sumbi saw that he was about to accomplish what she has thought impossible, she called on the gods to bring the sun up early and thwart Sangkuriang.

The cock crowed, the sun rose much earlier than usual, and Sangkuriang realized he had been deceived. In a fit of fury, he caused Dayang Sumbi and kicked the half-finished boat back into the forest. There it lies upside down today, forming the mountain Tangkuban Perahu (Upturned Boat). Not far away is the stump of the tree Sangkuriang had felled, now called Bukit Tinggi. The dam Sangkuriang had built caused the valley to become a lake, where both Sangkuriang and Dayang Sumbi drowned themselves. They were never heard of again.

The Story of Toba Lake

Once upon a time, there was a man who was living in north Sumatra. He lived in a simple hut in a farming field. He did some gardening and fishing for his daily life. One day, while the man was doing fishing, he caught a big golden fish in his trap. It was the biggest catch which he ever had in his life. Surprisingly, this fish turned into a beautiful princess. He fell in love with her and proposed her to be his wife. She said; "Yes, but you have to promise not to tell anyone about the secret that I was once a fish, otherwise there will be a huge disaster". The man made the deal and they got married, lived happily and had a daughter.

Few years later, this daughter would help bringing lunch to her father out in the fields. One day, his daughter was so hungry, and she ate his father's lunch. Unfortunately, he found out and got furious, and shouted; "You damned daughter of a fish". The daughter ran home and asked her mother. The mother started crying, felt sad that her husband had broken his promise.

Then she told her daughter to run up the hills because a huge disaster was about to come. When her daughter left, she prayed. Soon there was a big earthquake followed by non-stop pouring rain. The whole area got flooded and became Toba Lake. She turned into a fish again and the man became the island of Samosir.

TEXT 1Malin Kundang

A long time ago, in a small village near the beach in West Sumatra, a woman and her son lived. They were Malin Kundang and her mother. Her mother was a single parent because Malin Kundang's father had died when he was a baby. Malin Kundang had to live hard with his mother. Malin Kundang was a healthy, diligent, and strong boy. He usually went to sea to catch fish. After getting fish he would bring it to his mother or sold the caught fish in the town.

One day, when Malin Kundang was sailing, he saw a merchant's ship which was being raided by a small band of pirates. He helped the merchant. With his brave and power, Malin Kundang defeated the pirates. The merchant was so happy and thanked to him. In return the merchant asked Malin Kundang to sail with him. To get a better life, Malin Kundang agreed. He left his mother alone. Many years later, Malin Kundang became wealthy. He had a huge ship and was helped by many ship crews loading trading goods. Perfectly he had a beautiful wife too.

When he was sailing his trading journey, his ship landed on a beach near a small village. The villagers recognized him. The news ran fast in the town; "Malin Kundang has become rich and now he is here". An old woman ran to the beach to meet the new rich merchant. She was Malin Kundang's mother. She wanted to hug him, released her sadness of being lonely after so long time.

Unfortunately, when the mother came, Malin Kundang who was in front of his well-dressed wife and his ship crews denied meeting that old lonely woman. For three times her mother begged Malin Kundang and for three times he yelled at her. At last Malin Kundang said to her "Enough, old woman! I have never had a mother like you, a dirty and ugly woman!" After that he ordered his crews to set sail. He would leave the old mother again, but in that time, she was full of both sadness and anger.

Finally, enraged, she cursed Malin Kundang that he would turn into a stone if he didn't apologize. Malin Kundang just laughed and really set sail. In the quiet sea, suddenly a thunderstorm came. His huge ship was wrecked, and it was too late for Malin Kundang to apologize. He was thrown by the wave out of his ship. He fell on a small island. It was too late for him to avoid his curse. Suddenly, he turned into a stone.

The old woman was very curious. One night she decided to stay up late. She was peeping from her room to know who cooked for her. Then, she could not believe what she saw. The golden snail she caught in the river turned into a beautiful woman. The old woman approached her. "Who are you, young girl?" "I am Dewi Limaran, Ma'am. A witch cursed me. I can change back as a human only at night," explained Dewi Limaran. "The spell can be broken if I hear the melody from the holy gamelan," continued Dewi Limaran. The old woman then rushed to the palace. She talked to Prince Raden Putra about her wife. Prince Raden Putra was so happy. He had been looking for his wife everywhere.

He then prayed and meditated. He asked the gods to give him the holy gamelan. He wanted to break the witch's spell. After several days praying and meditating, finally gods granted his wish. He immediately brought the holy gamelan to the old woman's house. He played it beautifully. And then amazingly the golden snail turned into the beautiful Dewi Limaran. The couple was so happy that they could be together again. They also thanked the old woman for her kindness. As a return, they asked her to stay in the palace.

A long time ago, in a small village near the beach in West Sumatra, a woman and her son lived. They were Malin Kundang and her mother. Her mother was a single parent because Malin Kundang's father had died when he was a baby. Malin Kundang had to live hard with his mother. Malin Kundang was a healthy, diligent, and strong boy. He usually went to sea to catch fish. After getting fish he would bring it to his mother or sold the caught fish in the town.

One day, when Malin Kundang was sailing, he saw a merchant's ship which was being ruled by a small band of pirates. He helped the merchant. With his brave and power, Malin Kundang defeated the pirates. The merchant was so happy and thanked to him. In return the merchant asked Malin Kundang to sail with him. To get a better life, Malin Kundang agreed. He left his mother alone. Many years later, Malin Kundang became wealthy. He had a huge ship and was helped by many ship crews loading trading goods. Perfectly he had a beautiful wife too.

When he was sailing his trading journey, his ship landed on a beach near a small village. The villagers recognized him. The news ran fast in the town, "Malin Kundang has become rich and now he is here". An old woman ran to the beach to meet the new rich merchant. She was Malin Kundang's mother. She wanted to hug him, released her sadness of being lonely after so long time.

Unfortunately, when the mother came, Malin Kundang who was in front of his well-dressed wife and his ship crews denied meeting that old lonely woman. I have never had a mother like you, a dirty and ugly woman." After that he ordered his crews to set sail. He would leave the old mother again, but in that time, she was full of both sadness and anger.

Finally, enraged, she cursed Malin Kundang that he would turn into a stone if he didn't apologize. Malin Kundang just laughed and really set sail. In the quiet sea, suddenly a thunderstorm came. TEXT 2

KEONG EMAS || THE GOLDEN SNAIL

Prince Raden Putra and Dewi Limaran were husband and wife. They lived in a palace. Prince Raden Putra's father was the king of the kingdom. One day, Dewi Limaran was walking around in the palace garden. Suddenly she saw a snail. It was ugly and disgusting. "Yuck!" said Dewi Limaran and then she threw it away into a river. She did not know that the snail was an old and powerful witch. She could transform herself into anything. The witch was angry to Dewi Limaran. The witch put a spell on her and changed her into a golden snail. The witch then threw it away into the river.

The golden snail was drifting away in the river and got caught into a net. An old woman was fishing and used her net to catch some fish. She was surprised to see a golden snail in her net. She took it and brought it home. When the old woman woke up in the morning, she was surprised that the house was in the good condition. The floor was mopped. And she also had food on the table. She was thinking very hard. "Who did this to me? The person is very kind." It happened again and again every morning.

The old woman was very curious. One night she decided to stay up late. She was peeping from her room to know who cooked for her. Then, she could not believe what she saw. The golden snail she caught in the river turned into a beautiful woman. The old woman approached her. "Who are you, young girl?" "I am Dewi Limaran, Ma'am. A witch cursed me. I can change back as a human only at night," explained Dewi Limaran. "The spell can be broken if I hear the melody from the holy gamelan," continued Dewi Limaran. The old woman then rushed to the palace. She talked to Prince Raden Putra about her wife. Prince Raden Putra was so happy. He had been looking for his wife everywhere.

He then prayed and meditated. He asked the gods to give him the holy gamelan. He wanted to break the witch's spell. After several days praying and meditating, finally gods granted his wish. He immediately brought the holy gamelan to the old woman's house. He played it beautifully. And then amazingly the golden snail turned into the beautiful Dewi Limaran. The couple was so happy that they could be together again. They also thanked the old woman for her kindness. As a return, they asked her to stay in the palace.

The Legend of Bali StraitOrientation

A long time ago, lived a very rich family in Bali. The father was Sidi Mantra. He was very famous for his supernatural power. He lived happily with his wife and his only child Manik Angkeran.

Complication

Manik Angkeran was a spoiled son. He also had a bad habit. He liked to gamble. Because of his bad habit, his parents soon became poor. They always advised Manik Angkeran to stop his bad habit, but he never listened to them. Instead, he kept on begging to his parents to give him a lot of money.

The parents then did not have the heart to see him begging. Sidi Mantra then went to Agung Mountain. There lived a mighty dragon with his great supernatural power. He could provide jewelries to those who could say the right prayers and ring the bell. Sidi Mantra had the bell and he also knew the prayers. "My name is Sidi Mantra. I have a problem. My son likes to gamble. He made me poor. And now he asks a lot of money. I want to give him some, but now I want him to promise to stop his bad behavior," explained Sidi Mantra after he met the dragon. Sidi Mantra then said the prayers and rang the bell.

Suddenly, jewelries came out from the dragon's body. He was very happy and immediately brought the jewelries home. This time Sidi Mantra wanted Manik Angkeran really to stop gambling. The son then promised. But soon he broke the promise and he did not have some money again. He heard that his father got the jewelries from the dragon living in Agung Mountain. So he stole his father's bell then went there.

After he had arrived in Agung Mountain, Manik Angkeran rang the bell. The dragon knew him. "I will give you anything you want but you have to promise to stop gambling. Remember the karma!" said the dragon, then the dragon gave him the jewelries. Manik Angkeran was very happy. Suddenly he had a bad idea. He wanted to kill the dragon and stole all his jewelries. The dragon knew his plan and with his great power he killed Manik Angkeran.

Resolution

Sidi Mantra was very sad. He asked the dragon to bring his son back to life. The dragon agreed but they had to live in different places. After few moments, Manik Angkeran lived again. Then Sidi Mantra used a stick to make a big line between them on the ground. From the line, water flowed. Soon it became a river. Finally it became a strait. It separated Java and Bali. People then named the strait as Bali Strait.

The Legend of Rawa Pening

Orientation

Once upon a time, there was a little poor boy came into a little village. He was very hungry and weak. He knocked at every door and asked for some food, but nobody cared about him. Nobody wanted to help the little boy.

Finally, a generous woman helped him. She gave him shelter and a meal. When the boy wanted to leave, this old woman gave him a “lesung”, a big wooden mortar for pounding rice. She reminded him, “please remember, if there is a flood you must save yourself. Use this “lesung” as a boat”. The “lesung” (little poor boy) was happy and thanked the old woman.

Complication

The little boy continued his journey. While he was passing through the village, he saw many people gathering on the field. The boy came closer and saw a stick stuck in the ground. People challenged each other to pull out that stick. Everybody tried, but nobody succeeded. “Can I try?” asked the little boy. The crowd laughed mockingly. The boy wanted to try his luck so he stepped forward and pulled out the stick. He could do it very easily. Everybody was dumbfounded. Suddenly, from the hole left by stick, water spouted out. It did not stop until it flooded the village. And no one was saved from the water except the little boy and the generous old woman who gave him shelter and meal. As she told him, he used the “lesung” as a boat and picked up the old woman.

Resolution

The whole village became a huge lake. It is now known as Rawa Pening Lake in Salatiga, Central Java, Indonesia.

The Legend of Nyi Roro Kidul

Padjajaran Kingdom lies in the West Java. This great kingdom was ruled by Prabu (King) Siliwangi. He had a queen, a very beautiful daughter named Dewi Kadita and harems. The beauty of Dewi Kadita and her mother made other harems jealous. All the harems gathered one night to build conspiracy against Dewi Kadita and her mother. The harems decided to use black magic to make their body filthy and curse them to be so ugly and disgusting.

Prabu Siliwangi turns out very angry and disappointed when he found that his queen and daughter turned out so ugly and disgusting. He was convinced by his harems that his queen and daughter were having the uncured disease and they will bring bad luck for the palace. Prabu Siliwangi was influenced by what the harems said and then he told them to seep out from the palace.

Dewi Kadita, and her mother wandered around in sorrows. Dewi Kadita cannot believe that her father listened to what the harems said. She was very upset with her father. She got more upset when her mother and she came by to every place; the people weren't friendly and welcomed them. This circumstance made Dewi Kadita's mother depressed. One day, the mother died and left Dewi Kadita in deep sorrows.

Dewi Kadita walked in her deep sorrows until she reaches the southern shore. She sat above a rock in a stove shape and fell asleep. When she was sleeping, she had a vision that she must jump to the ocean to help herself out of the curse. Once she woke up, without second thought, Dewi Kadita jumped into the ocean.

Immediately, Dewi kadita returned into a beautiful lady as she was. But then she realized that she was not human anymore, yet she turned -into a supernatural form of life. Since then, she ruled all the creatures in the southern coasts of Java Island and she was known as Nyi Roro Kidul.

Telaga Warna

The king of a famous kingdom in Cipanas, West Java, was very wise man. He had a beautiful daughter. The king and queen loved their daughter so much. Yet all their love was not enough for the princess. Even though they gave her everything, she was not happy. All the jewelries that they had were not enough for her. She was not satisfied with her gorgeous looking either.

The princess then had an idea. Early in the morning, she planned to put all the jewelries that they had in every single hair in her head. She wanted to be the most beautiful girl in the world. The princess went to see her mother and father to tell them about her plan. She was very sure they would not say no. The king was surprised to hear about his daughter's plan. He tried to convince her that her plan was not proper. "My Daughter, the beauty of a princess is not measured by her clothes or by the jewelry she is wearing, but by her attitude. It's not that we don't love you, but what will people think if you go through with your plan?" said the king.

The princess was shocked to hear that. So, she ran to her room to get her jewelry box. Then she returned to her parents. She screams: "You are so miserly. Here, I am returning every single jewelry you ever gave me." She threw her jewelry box to her father. The wise king was outraged seeing what his daughter did. "You are ungrateful daughter!"

Suddenly, the floor of the palace erupted, and the water was pouring out from the crack. In a matter of second, the palace was flooded, and drowned by the ungrateful princess and her jewelry. The palace was replaced by a lake. The lake always reflects multiple colors to its surrounding. Some say the colors come from the princess's jewelry. The lake is known as Telaga Warna that means colorful lake.

The Legend of Crying Stone

In a small village, a girl lived with her mother. The girl was very beautiful. She always put make-up and wore her best clothes. She did not like to help her mother work in a field. The girl was very lazy.

One morning day, the mother asked the girl to accompany her to go to the market to buy some food. At first the girl refused, but the mother persuaded her by saying they were going to buy new clothes. Finally, the girl agreed, but she asked her mother to walk behind her. She did not want to walk side by side with her mother.

Although her mother was very sad, she agreed to walk behind her daughter. On the way to the market, everybody admired the girl's beauty. They were also curious because behind the beautiful girl, there was an old woman with a simple dress.

The girl and her mother looked very different. "Hello, pretty lady. Who is the woman behind you?" asked them. "She is my servant," answered the girl. The mother was very sad, but she didn't say anything. The girl and the mother met other people, "Hello, beauty. Who is the woman behind you?" asked them. Again, the girl answered that her mother was her servant. She said that her mother was her servant every time they met people.

At last, the mother could not hold the pain anymore. She prayed to God to punish her daughter. God answered her prayer. Slowly, the girl's leg turned into stone. The process continued to the upper part of the girl's body. The girl was very panick. "Mother, please forgive me!" she cried and asked her mother to forgive her.

But it was too late. Her whole body finally became a big stone. Now, people still can see the tears falling down from the stone. People then call it the crying stone or in Indonesian is batu menangis.

Telaga Warma

The king of a famous kingdom in Cipanas, West Java, was very wise man. He had a beautiful daughter. The king and queen loved their daughter so much. Yet all their love was not enough for the princess. Even though they gave her everything, she was not happy. All the jewels that they had were not enough for her. She was not satisfied with her gorgeous looking either.

The princess then had an idea. Early in the morning, she planned to put all the jewelries that they had in every single hair in her head. She wanted to be the most beautiful girl in the world. The princess went to see her mother and father to tell them about her plan. She was very sure they would not say no. The king was surprised to hear about his daughter's plan. He tried to convince her that her plan was not proper. "My Daughter, the beauty of a princess is not measured by her clothes or by the jewelry she is wearing, but by her attitude. It's not that we don't love you, but what will people think if you go through with your plan?" said the king.

The princess was shocked to hear that. So, she ran to her room to get her jewelry box. Then she returned to her parents. She screams: "You are so miserly. Here, I am returning every single jewelry you ever gave me." She threw her jewelry box to her father. The wise king was outraged seeing what his daughter did. "You are ungrateful daughter!"

Suddenly, the floor of the palace emptied, and the water was pouring out from the crack. In a matter of second, the palace was flooded, and drowned by the ungrateful princess and her jewelry. The palace was replaced by a lake. The lake always reflects multiple colors to its surrounding. Some say that the colors come from the princess's jewelry. The lake is known as Telaga Warma that means colorful lake
